[note 2] TechCare reserves the right to charge an after hour's service fee if the time is outside the scope of "Business Hours" which are 0830 hours to 1800 hours (8:30 AM to 6:00 PM) Monday to Friday. Any work on Saturday is deemed "After Hours" and will be charged accordingly. Although TechCare reserves this right, it is up to us to charge at the respective rate. Any work agreed to will be deemed compliant in accepting the amounts shown in the relative table above.

[note 3] The minimum fee for any remote support help is dependent on which tier the client/customer falls under. This provides service for up to 30 mins, if more time is required an ongoing labour fee as stipulated in the relevant table is to be interpreted. If the remote support is after business hours the afterhours service fees apply.

[note 4] A standard system restore includes the complete wipe of data, re-installation of the operating system and drivers associated with it. All programs and data is the client's responsibility and TechCare will NOT be held liable for any loss associated with the process.

[note 5] An advanced system restore is an extension to a standard system restore with the added option to include a backup of standard data locations. This includes Documents, Music, Pictures, Favourites and Email services. Anything left out unless specified to the technician is NOT going to be saved. TechCare is not to be held liable for any data that is lost outside of the above mentioned scope.

[note 6] The WordPress CMS used is an Open Source System that is provided for under the license relating to that project. For full details on the licensing structure refer to WordPress' Website – <http://www.wordpress.org>. In addition each CMS requires a theme to act as the front end (what everyone sees when viewing your website) and this is an additional cost, dependant on the WordPress Theme Developer's price. TechCare will provide examples of various Themes that are current in today's market but the choice to purchase and implement any theme remains that of the customer or client.

[note 7] The customer is to provide all content prior to work commencing to a maximum of 1 week after the project has been started. Failure to do so results in website being completed to best of TechCare's ability, minus the content and will be charged for in full.

[note 8] The customer must pay additional costs to any extra work completed at their request. An hourly rate of $88.00 inc GST is incurred for any extra work.

[note 9] TechCare Hybrid Backup is a solution that attempts, with as much contingency that is economically viable, to keep multiple backups of the clients data safe and secure. In this respect TechCare wants to make clear to all clients that all backup systems cannot be solely relied upon. Our service is only to provide another location for your data to be securely synced to and give that additional peace of mind on already existing backup services. To reduce the possibility of data loss this Hybrid solution backs up first and primarily to a storage device onsite (to be supplied by the client, or at an additional cost upon installation). A secondary data backup is hosted by TechCare. While every effort is made to ensure the ability to retrieve data, TechCare cannot warrant that your data will be restorable. What we do make known is that our data storage device contains enterprise grade hard drives, with fault protection and using the latest technology ZFS on Linux as an attempt to mitigate any possible data compromise. It is TechCare's aim to provide a multilayer protection plan that attempts to drastically reduce the single point of failure which is so common in the homes and businesses of today. If data loss is experienced and the copy stored on TechCare's cloud backup solution is also found to be corrupted every effort will be made to try to retrieve any possible data. However we are making this clear up front that we will not accept liability for any loss of data. It is solely the client's responsibility to store their data in multiple locations. We also will not accept liability for any loss of data as a result of lightning strikes, floods or any other natural or man-made catastrophe. Any client who has a monthly maintenance plan with TechCare for storage of backups and/or uses this resold software from TechCare agrees to all the above.
